New Delhi, the 30th September 1963

SUBJECT:—Import of Raw material/components—conversion of a part of the licence for import of iron and steel items.

No. 126-ITC(PN)/63.—Reference para 50(v) of Section I of the current Red Book. To meet the demands of those industries specified in the Annexure to this Public Notice which require small quantities of iron and steel items as are licensable by the Iron and Steel Controller, it has been decided that they should be permitted to convert and import a specified percentage, as shown against each industry in the Annexure, of their A.U. licences for raw materials (other than iron and steel)/components for import of iron and steel items. Utensil gauge stainless steel sheets is not one of the items which can be imported by such conversion. This decision is applicable to all licences issued to Actual Users for raw materials (other than iron and steel)/components for the half year October, 1963—March, 1964 and against the second half of the annual licences for raw materials (other than iron and steel)/components already issued for the year April 1963—March 1964. Necessary endorsements on licences will be made by licensing authorities on applications by Actual Users.
